Accessibility Assessments

There is a large amount of misunderstanding regarding compliance the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Some people think that their business or organization is exempt from ADA law because the business is a retail store or a doctor's office. That is wrong, accessibility isn't about the type of business, and it is about all businesses.

Accessibility assessments begin at the point where an individual exits their mode of transportation and continues through all areas an individual may receive services. The assessment concludes at the point the individual returns back to their transportation. Our trained Team Member will conduct an assessment, provide a written report, and offer suggestions to bring your organization into compliance. By the way all organizations must be in compliances with the ADA laws.

Why ADA accessibility is good business?
Your business, regardless of the type of work that you do needs to be in compliance. Individuals who need and use the essentials of your business are counting on you. The disability community is a close community. We talk about business and organizations that are accessible and practice great customer service. We know who is in compliance and who is not. It is good business to be in compliance!

What happens if my organization/business isn't accessible?
If a business is not accessible, or out of compliance, a complaint can be filed by anyone or on behalf of anyone with the Illinois Attorney General's office. Once the Attorney General's office receives a compliant they will pursue the matter.

Wouldn't it be better to have control of your compliance? Trained NICIL team members will assess your organization for accessibility. We give you a written report of this assessment and offer recommendations on how to plan for your compliance needs.

Call us for an appointment and schedule your accessibility assessment. Call us for availability and pricing information at 815-625-7860.

Have a question we haven't answered yet? Call us we will assist you with finding what you are searching for!